Pastor's NOTES

Dear Friends,

In his book, "The Fisherman and His Friends," Louis Albert Banks tells of two men who were assigned to stand watch on a ship at sea. During the night the waves from a raging storm washed one of them overboard. The sailor who drowned had been in the most sheltered place, while the one who survived was more exposed to the elements. What made the difference? The man who was lost had nothing to hold on to.

What a picture of the way some people are affected by the trials of life! When life is peaceful, they are very self-sufficient, but when the going gets rough they are swept off their feet. Because they have refused God's help and have nothing to hold on to, they are easily overwhelmed.

People who cling to the Lord, though, can weather the worst storms of adversity. They know that our heavenly Father is always there to strengthen, guard, and protect them. Those who have put their hope in God have Someone they can rely on in every circumstance of life. They can say of the Lord, "He is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in Him I will trust." (Psalm 91: 2) What about you? Think about that.

Love, Merle

Thanks so much to all of you who were here last Sunday to share Cody's dedication day with us. We especially appreciate the wonderful sermon Merle gave and the beautiful solos by Jennifer Martin and John Nichols.

Love,

Rusty, Lee Ann, Megan & Cody

We would like to thank everyone for the generous gifts we received at our wedding shower. A special thanks to Nancy and Kelly for kindly throwing the shower.

Love in Christ,

Kerry Lane and Robert Tarpley

Stephen and Amanda Ray have a son, Matthew Buckner, born April 29. Charlie Ray is the grandfather.
